AEC Chief Favors Senate Ratification

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, testified today that underground testing will permit a wide range of nuclear weapons development, including warheads for antimissile defense.

As the third witness at Senate hearings, Seaborg strongly backed earlier testimony from Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that ratification of the limited test ban treaty would be in the best interests of the United States.

New Avenue Of Leads In Mail Robbery

Clues from Gang's Hideout In Record $7-Million Robbery

LONDON (AP)—British police investigating the great mail train robbery followed up a new avenue of leads today uncovered by the discovery of a lonely farm that was the gang's hideout.

Scotland Yard said:

The name and address of a man to whom the farm was sold less than a month ago.

A description of a charming, expensively dressed man who came to collect the keys.

Description of a ginger-haired stranger and a brunette woman seen in the district by suspicious country folk.

Although the police appeared to be making progress; there was still no trace of the more than $7 million snatched from the Glasgow-London night mail train last Thursday.

Detectives, fingerprint men and other police experts swarmed over Leatherslade Farm, the robbers' den 18 miles from the scene of the crime.

An unconfirmed report said an underworld source had furnished the names of 10 criminals supposed to have taken part in the raid.

Inquiries stretched to the French Riviera. The leader of the gang was thought to have gone there some days before the robbery to provide himself an alibi.

A truck and two army type vehicles used by the bandits were found at the farm. Police also found empty mailbags, supplies of canned food and a hole in the (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 7)

Alter Time On Fuel Tax Refund Filing

A bill enacted by the recently closed Missouri General Assembly alters the time and procedure for making refund claims of state motor fuel tax paid on gasoline consumed by non-highway equipment.

The measure and its new stipulations are, in the main, important to Missouri farmers.

Applications may be filed with the state Department of Revenue, Motor Fuel Tax Unit, within one year of purchase under the new measure. The previous time for filing was each 120 days.

Claims must be supported by original "paid" invoices, properly receipted as paid, by the seller, the state bureau advises.

In a letter to County Clerk Jim Green, the Motor Fuel Tax supervisor, Lawrence O. Campbell, stated the applicant may submit claims for refund at any time he desires, within the year period.

"This revision will effect, and be retroactive, upon claims for refund, supported by paid invoices of gasoline purchased within 120 days preceding the effective date of Oct. 13, 1963," Campbell said.

"We suggest the claimant demand invoices of purchases from his supplier in compliance with requirements and the person completing the claim form, do so in detail," Campbell said. "Proper procedure in completing claims will expedite processing and possibly eliminate rejection."

The revision was provided for in Senate Bill No. 24 enacted by the 72nd General Assembly. It becomes effective on Oct. 13 as do other measures passed by the 1963 legislature.

The tractors will be divided into five classes, according to their weights.

Father, Son Held In Tampering With Vehicle Charge

Two Kansas Citians charged here with tampering with a motor vehicle were arraigned in Magistrate Court Wednesday morning and requested a preliminary hearing.

Judge Frank Armstrong set the hearing for 10 a.m. Friday morning and set bond at $1,000 each.

The two are Terry Gene Harper, 17, and Joseph Daniel Harper, 42. They are father and son. They are charged in connection with the theft of a car owned by William Lower, 1438 South Carr, early Sunday morning.

The Harpers are being held in the Pettis County jail in lieu of bond.

Ann Landers Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Several months ago I was having dinner alone when I noticed a stunning girl who was also alone. I asked her to join me. She accepted, making it clear it was the first time she'd ever done such a thing. Here is the straight goods and I want you to tell me what you think: She is a secretary for a magazine executive but she won't tell me which magazine or where her office is. She lives with her mother who is high-strung and can't stand to hear a telephone ring. So she calls me — I can't call her. I have never been to her apartment or met her mother in the five months I've been taking her out. She can't see me on Saturday or Sunday because she is a devoted church worker and these days belong to church. I loaned her $350 which she will repay in September when she gets her bonus.

She is beautiful, wonderful company and the most fascinating woman I've ever met. She will marry me if I'm willing to take her as she is and not ask any questions. What shall I say to the lady?—MAC.

Dear Mac: Say "good-bye." The lady is a tramp.

Dear Ann Landers: My entire future depends on your advice. Please help. I am 56 and my wife is 45. We have three teenagers. I am considering divorcing my wife, taking the children, and hiring a housekeeper. The reason? My wife is so tied up with her mother she is driving me crazy. Neither one can leave her home without telephoning the other to report where she is going and when she will be back.

The kids can never use the phone because my wife and her mother are talking constantly. (They live three minutes apart.) If a neighbor drops in, my wife has to call her mother and repeat every word that was said.

Both my wife and her mother are in and out of doctors' offices constantly. They imagine they've every disease known to man, although the doctor says they are both in good physical condition. The medical and drug bills are keeping me broke. What would you advise me to do?—R.A. OF SMYRNA, GA.

Dear R.A.: Divorce is not the answer. It would only add to your problems—emotionally and financially.

Your wife needs psychiatric help. If she will not accept it, get a second phone, plan your life around this sick woman and try to be both mother and dad to those kids.

Dear Ann Landers: If I am being petty and foolish please tell me and I'll try to change. If, however, you feel I am justified in my position tell me how to maintain it without looking like an old meanie to my less imaginative friends and relatives.

I'm a good cook and I enjoy serving unusual dishes. I have actually made up some special recipes myself. When people ask for the recipes I don't know what to say. Frankly, I hate to give them out because then my special dishes would become common. Do you feel I should simply say, "It's a secret"? This is what I'd really like to do, but I haven't got the nerve. What is your advice?—CREATIVE COOK.

Dear Creative: If you are unhappy about sharing your recipes, don't do it. However, I firmly believe it takes more than a recipe to make an excellent cook.

No two people will prepare a dish in precisely the same way. If you are as good as I think you are, your dishes will always be special because you have a touch that can't be reflected in any recipe.

Confidential to LOOSE HANGER: Nice philosophy, Bub, but don't hang so loose that the world passes you by. You need a STEADY job.

Short Term Interest Rates Up As Money Gets Tighter

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Money is getting tighter and short-term interest rates are rising. At the same time, Americans are increasing their installment debt to new heights and banks and other lenders are competing hard for new outlets for their cash on hand.

The opposing trends are alarming some on both sides of the credit fence. The debate over cheap money vs. dear—never entirely stilled—is due to break out loudly again.

The spurt in the cost of short-term borrowing is reflected in the rise this week in the U.S. Treasury's 91-day bills' yield to 3.335 per cent, highest since May 26, 1960.

The money managers had planned it that way. They recently raised from 3 per cent to 3.5 per cent the discount rate which member banks are charged to borrow from the Federal Reserve banks.

The aim is to put yields so high that idle dollars will stay in this country instead of flowing abroad to upset further our international payments, with resulting strain on the dollar and on our gold reserves.

Some feel the money managers are also convinced that credit has been too easy.

The conservatives cite the rise of instalment credit outstanding to more than $50 billion, due largely to the near record sales of autos and increased purchasing of big ticket appliances on time.

They also note that some banks have been stretching the time in which auto loans can be repaid, and charge that some financial institutions have been lending money on mortgages where the credit risk was higher than they would have approved awhile back.

Conservative financial circles always shudder when credit standards are being relaxed.

They want even easier money. They argue that cheaper short-term money aids smaller businessmen in their day-to-day activities.

They contend that longer term borrowing must be easy and cheap if business is to expand and thus create new jobs for the

They deal with voting rights, school desegregation, employment opportunity, federally assisted programs and discrimination in places of public accommodations.

The accident occurred two-tenths of a mile west of Highway 65.

The patrol said a 1959 Ford, being driven south by Donald Brown, 19, Route 4, Marshall, rounded a sharp curve, left the road and struck an embankment.

Gavin to Seek State Senate Seat

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Thomas J. Gavin, former state representative and city councilman, said today he would seek the Democratic nomination for the state senate from the 11th district in Kansas City.

The position has been filled since 1956 by Jasper M. Brancato, a Democrat, who suffered a heart attack last spring.

Gavin served two terms as state representative and then 15 years on the Kansas City Council. He has a variety of business interests, including real estate, insurance and public relations.

The former councilman, who is a close friend of former President Harry S. Truman, said friends had been suggesting he seek the nomination. His papers were sent to Jefferson City, but he also must file with the Jackson County clerk, since his district is entirely within the borders of Kansas City.

Gavin, who was hauling Democratic voters to the polls here before he could vote, was a precinct captain under Tom Pendergast. He served in the Air Force during World War II.

Japan Agrees To Sign Test Ban

WASHINGTON (AP)—Japan, the only nation ever hit by a wartime atomic attack, added its agreement today to the treaty banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere, outer space and underwater.

Although no mention was made of it at the State Department signing ceremonies, the action came on the 18th anniversary of Japan's surrender ending World War II. The surrender was hastened by the dropping of atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Pakistan also signed the pact and Burma arranged to sign later today, boosting to about 60 the number of nations agreeing to the limited test ban treaty negotiated by the United States, Britain and Russia.

Six others signed Tuesday. They were Costa Rica, Iraq, Jamaica, Nicaragua, Spain and Syria.

New Bar Head Named To National Post

BOSTON (AP)—The president-elect of the Missouri Bar Association, Orville Richardson of St. Louis, was named Tuesday to head a national committee to aid indigent persons.

The committee was appointed by the new president of the National Association of Claimants Counsel of America, Jack D. Fuschberg of New York.

The association pledged support to national and state movements toward providing legal assistance to persons accused of crime who are too poor to hire a lawyer.

Gibson and Gardner represented the defendants.

Urges Lawyers Take Part In Civil Rights

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Bar Association has urged the nation's lawyers to assist in better racial understanding by supporting and taking an active part in integration movements.

The ABA House of Delegates, 258-member policy making group, adopted by voice vote Tuesday a report of a special civil rights set up at the request of President Kennedy.

Berserk Man Holds Police Off 2 Hours

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A berserk gunman fended off policemen with wild blasts from a shotgun for more than two hours Tuesday night, wounding three persons before he was flushed from his home by tear gas and captured.

Armand A. Borgese, 29, a Pittsburgh fireman, repeatedly fired from the windows as policemen ringed his North Side home, crouching behind patrol cars and other objects for cover.

Pellets from Borgese's gun wounded a patrolman and two bystanders, none seriously. A shot in the direction of police Supt. James W. Slusser finally triggered his capture.

Slusser and another officer were at the home of Borgese's father, next door, when a shotgun blast shattered window glass near their heads. Slusser returned a carbine shot that wounded Borgese in the foot, and police let go with two volleys of tear gas.

As the stinging fumes filtered through the house, Borgese walked outside, still carrying the weapon.

"No shooting! no shooting!" police cried.

Lurking behind a car was patrolman Robert Everett and his police dog. The dog lunged at Borgese, and Everett moved in, wrestling the husky fireman to the ground.

Borgese was taken to St. John's General Hospital, where he was reported in fair condition.

The hectic night for police began as a routine assignment to investigate a domestic disturbance.

Identify One As Robber Of Telephone Man

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Police arrested 21-year-old Lewis S. Wheeler Tuesday and reported a coin collector for the telephone company identified him as one of the three men who got about $2,000 from him in a stickup.

Wheeler has a record of 18 arrests, and served jail time on two convictions for theft. Police said he will be taken to the prosecutor's office today for the preparation of charges.

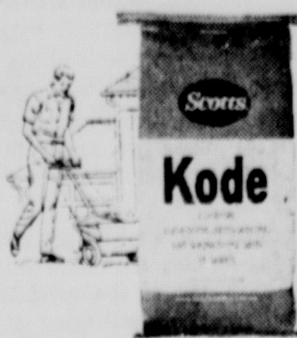

Three other men arrested with him were held for investigation.

The victim of Monday's stickup was Michael A. Early, who collects the coin receptacles from pay telephones. Police said Early identified Wheeler as one of the two men who piled into his car and forced him at gunpoint to drive several blocks. They transferred the receptacles into another car which had been following.

Advice From Danny Thomas

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Never mind the money. Think of the career—and the money will come." That is the advice Danny Thomas has for young performers these days. Danny can cite his own career as proof.

Thomas is a wealthy man who stars in his own television series and heads one of the most successful program packaging companies in the business. It is producing five network shows next season. He often recalls the advice given to him by Abe Lastvogel, his agent.

"It was in 1943," Thomas said. "I got an offer to play at the Roxy Theater in New York for $3,750 a week. I rushed to Abe to talk about the news. But he us shook his head.

"He told me that he had a better date for me—in the European theater of operations. The war would be over sometime. Lastvogel said, and the guys would come home and wonder where I was when they were fighting.

"He said that I'd better go, even if I had to take less money." "How much less?" I asked. "Well, $3,600 less," he said. I went, took my $150 and I've never regretted it."

Danny has done so well that a couple of seasons back he was making plans to taper off his appearances in the "Danny Thomas Show" to a point where the show could roll along without him. Last season with his real wife and his television wife, Marjorie Lord, he took off for Europe. They made some shows in Europe but the bulk of the programs were made in Hollywood, using the two children in the cast, and Sid Melton and Pat Carroll.

As usual, Thomas and Sheldon Leonard, his partner, will use the show occasionally as the incubator for their new program ideas. Danny Kaye has ordered a "no visitors" sign on the door of the big CBS sound stage, where he is in consultation and rehearsal for his fall series. He has been breaking interview dates without notice—and adding new wrinkles to the brows of the network's promotion staff assigned to stimulate interest in the comedian's expensive new weekly variety hour.

As if that were not enough to fret about, CBS also has Judy Garland ducking all interviews and picture-taking dates even though her show, beset by format troubles, is unexpectedly closed down for three weeks and her time is not occupied by rehearsals.

Estes Kefauver Buried At Family Home

MADISONVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Estes Kefauver, a Tennessee Democrat who made his mark in the U.S. Senate and created a memorable campaign picture as the man in the coonskin cap, was buried Tuesday at the family home in east Tennessee.

As the mahogany casket was lowered, a downpour swept over the crowd of mourners, among them Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Adlai E. Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Kefauver, 60, died last week after a heart attack.

His widow, Nancy, forced a smile occasionally during the simple service on the porch of the century-old home. Their son and three daughters sat with her.

An Air Force honor guard bore the coffin, draped with the flag, to the grave.

Many of Kefauver's colleagues in the Senate, where he crusaded against crime and monopoly, were present along with the Tennessee congressional delegation and Gov. Frank S. Clement.

Business establishments of his hometown, population 1,800, were closed in tribute. A state trooper estimated the crowd in town at 5,000 to 10,000.

Kefauver sought the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952 and 1956, losing both times to Stevenson. He was Stevenson's running mate in 1956.

Chicago Newspaper Publisher Divorced

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Marshall Field Jr., publisher of two Chicago newspapers and heir to a department store fortune, has been divorced by his wife, Katherine. After the routine Nevada charge of mental cruelty, Mrs. Field was granted the divorce Tuesday in a 15-minute closed hearing in the courtroom of Dist. Judge Grant L. Bowen.

Mrs. Field, 35, is the daughter of the late Frederick W. Woodruff, Joliet, Ill., banker.

Field is president of Field Enterprises, Inc., publishers of the Chicago Sun-Times, the Chicago Daily News and World Book Encyclopedia.

Bomb Blast Gave New Information

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP)—The nuclear bomb which the United States detonated above the Pacific last year helped scientists determine the path and rate of decay of high-energy electrons, thus solving a major mystery of the Van Allen radiation belt.

This was reported to a satellite conference today by Wilmont N. Hess of the Goddard Space Flight Center.

"While the nuclear explosion shortened the lives of some satellites and increased the intensity of radiation around the globe, it had a valuable side effect," he said.

"To students of the Van Allen belt, it was almost like having a controlled experiment in space."

Before the explosion, said Hess, scientists could only guess at the travel pattern and life of high-energy particles throughout the belt. Now, these facts are known with reasonable accuracy to a distance of 5,000 miles.

The information has led to better understanding of the Van Allen belt, a zone of trapped radiation which extends from 400 to 40,000 miles above the earth. It will help in the design, engineering, and equipping of spacecraft, Hess said.

The artificial band of radiation created by the 1.4-megaton hydrogen detonation released electrons which merged with the lower level of the Van Allen belt.

Hess said satellite instruments readily distinguished the blast-created electrons from natural radiation.

"There was a very rapid decay immediately of the highest-energy particles," he said. "About one-half of the artificial radiation disappeared in the first year. Now the decay rate of the lower-energy particles is smoother and slower, and the amount of artificial radiation is being reduced by about one-half its amount each year."

Hess said the loss rate should increase as radiation layers on the sun increase toward a period of maximum solar activity in two years. He said the maximum period may wipe out the man-made radiation.

Hess said the high-altitude explosion provided data on the inner zone of the Van Allen belt, but that electron movement and life in the less dense outer zone still is not known. He said a plan is being studied to shoot a piece of radioactive copper 16,000 miles high, to release positron energy particles.

Positrons could be readily investigated by satellites, Hess said. He reported that positrons act almost like electrons and would not contaminate space.

Joseph Valachi Under Guard At Ft. Monmouth

FT. MONMOUTH, N.J. (AP)—Underworld informer Joseph Valachi is under heavy guard at this Army installation, an Army spokesman disclosed early today.

Valachi, a self-confessed former member of a nationwide crime syndicate, has been spilling secrets of the organized underworld to federal agents for more than a year.

His whereabouts had been a closely guarded secret. A government source said recently, "If we let him out on the street he'd be dead in half an hour."

The underworld reportedly has put a $100,000 price on his head for talking. Peter Hoffman, information officer at this Army communications center, confirmed that Valachi was here after the New York Daily News reported it in a copy-right story.

A Dollars and Cents Look At Congress' Tax Bill

EDITOR'S NOTE—The tax bill now being shaped by the House Ways and Means Committee is of broad-and-butter interest to every American who pays taxes. Although a long road to enactment lies ahead, the measure has advanced far enough to examine its dollars and cents meaning to you.

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The tax bill is moving well enough along in Congress to have a look now at what it would do for you—or to you.

But before getting to the fine points, the big picture should be made crystal-clear: as things stand now, the measure would cut your tax payments.

True, the tax bill has a long way to go before it reaches President Kennedy's desk. The House Ways and Means Committee has lots of work still to do on the measure. Then it has to clear the House Rules Committee, face the full House and travel over to the Senate for another round of hearings and floor action. There it may run into a filibuster on civil rights.

This being understood, let's have a look at the tax bill as it stands now and see what it means to you if the measure in its present form wins approval.

If you pay any taxes at all, you'll be paying less. You would have to have a most peculiarly constructed income not to get some benefit from an across the board slash of tax rates, even though the package also includes some tax-raising features.

The Treasury puts the average rate cut, for taxpayers with taxable incomes through $60,000, at 15½ per cent. This picture is painted with a broad brush and applies to the rate changes when they would be complete, Jan. 1, 1965. Take it as a rough guide if you like—but no more than that.

—And if you dent old trusty's fender, you would not be able to claim the whole repair bill as a casualty loss, only the amount over $100 for each mishap to car or other property.

—If you have considerable income from dividends, one change the Treasury wants made would nick your over-all tax gain. This would be repeal of the 4 per cent tax credit, a considerable offset to the tax benefit of many higher-income taxpayers. There may be a compromise that would minimize the effect on smaller dividend recipients.

—But if you are thinking of selling some stocks, real estate, or other property you have held at least two years and on which there will be a profit, you're in luck. You would only have to include 40 per cent, instead of 50 per cent, of such capital gains in your taxable income. And if you're in a high bracket, your top capital gains tax would be only 21 per cent, instead of 25.

—One or two cautions: if you are in the business of building or buying real estate, taking maximum depreciation and selling in a few years to take the most advantage of capital gains—you face stiffened rules. And if in the future you inherit property on which gains have accumulated, you would encounter somewhat tighter tax treatment.

—If you are an author who sells a book to the movies, or an actor who lands in a hit after a series of lean years, or for some other reason your income shoots up more than a third, catapulting you into a higher tax bracket—you would have relief. The new tax law would provide a way of taxing the extra income as though it were spread out over five years.

—On fringe benefits, the changes would have an uneven effect. If you get sick and your employer continues your pay, you would get a special deduction for it only after a month, instead of the present rule of a week.

—But if you have moving expenses in connection with a job, you may get a better break. The rules would be liberalized in some details.

—If your employer buys a big group life insurance policy for you, you might be taxed on part of the value of the premium as income. But you don't have to worry about this unless the employer's contribution alone buys more than $30,000 coverage for you.

—If you are an executive ben-

Time Running Out For Former Dictator

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Time appeared to be running out today on Marcos Perez Jimenez, but the former Venezuelan dictator may not be taken back to his homeland until Friday.

The Venezuelan government claims Perez Jimenez embezzled more than $13 million while in office, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk has ruled he must return to stand trial.

Judge Robert H. Anderson of the Dade (Miami) County Circuit Court Tuesday dismissed a request to prevent Perez Jimenez from leaving until he put up $300,000 bond to provide for a child that blonde Ilona Marita Lorenz, 26, said she bore him.

Anderson then ordered the ex-dictator released from custody of the sheriff, but stayed the order so the Florida District Court of Appeals could review the paternity action.

The appeals court is on vacation and County Attorney Darrey Davis said the hearing probably would not be held before Friday.

—If you are 65 or older, the new law would give you at least two specific benefits. Your purchases of medicines would be fully deductible, without regard to the present 1 per cent of income floor. And if you sold your home, you would get capital gains tax consideration on any increase in value, even if you did not buy a new house. There would be no tax on gains if the house sold for no more than $20,000, and there would be a reduced tax if it brought more.

Private School Arrangement

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A privately financed program to provide free education for Prince Edward County's Negro children, who have had no schools since 1959, has been worked out by government officials and Negro leaders.

Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr. was expected to announce details of the plan at a news conference today.

Arrangements for educating the children were completed after conferences among federal, state and county officials and Negro leaders Tuesday.

Prince Edward closed all public schools in 1959 after a federal court ordered that they be integrated. The schools have been closed ever since. White children attend private schools.

There were indications that a biracial board of trustees would operate the program with funds provided by one or more foundations and possibly from individual contributors.

First purpose of the program, beginning this fall, would be remedial training for the hundreds of Negro children who have had no formal education in four years.

Tuesday's conferences stemmed from Monday's ruling by the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals. The court reversed a District Court order that would have required re-opening of the schools and barred use of tuition grants and tax credits for private segregated schools.

The appellate court said the federal courts should take no further action until the Virginia Supreme Court rules on issues involving state law. These issues may be decided in October.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs said they would appeal the Circuit Court decision to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Nonetheless, it appeared that Prince Edward would have no public schools for a fifth straight year. This was believed to have been a major factor in Tuesday's conferences.

Harrison met with former Gov. Colgate W. Darden, William Vandenberg, special assistant to U.S. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, and lawyers for the county school board and board of supervisors.

Attending the other session were

Osage Beach Has 3 Eligible Postmasters

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three persons are eligible for the postmastership at Osage Beach, Mo., according to an announcement Tuesday by the Civil Service Commission.

The three are Joe J. Kirkman, Robert W. Rathbun and Mrs. Margaret C. Cole. Kirkman is now acting postmaster.

There were nine applicants for the job which pays $5,805 a year. Any one of the three may be nominated by President Kennedy, subject to Senate confirmation.

Police Patrol Scene of Negro School Protest

CHICAGO (AP)—Police patrolled a South Side Negro area today after school integration pickets pelted police with bricks, stones and chunks of concrete in their demonstration against installation of mobile classrooms.

Four policemen and one woman were hit. One officer, struck on the forehead with a piece of concrete, was reported in fair condition in a hospital.

Task force commander Robert J. Lynsky, head of the police force at the site where 19 mobile classrooms are to be installed, was hit by a flying brick. He was not injured.

"This is no longer a demonstration," Lynsky said. "It is approaching the dimensions of a riot. I will no longer tolerate these rabble rousers and brick throwers."

About 50 persons were arrested during Tuesday's demonstration, the second day in a row of violence at the school site. Nearly 50 others were arrested Monday. Most of the persons arrested are Negroes.

Integration leaders said the picketing will continue.

Demonstrators say the classrooms foster de facto segregation in Chicago's schools and that Negro and white children should share each school in Chicago.

The Board of Education says the mobile classrooms are planned for the picketed site and "they'll stay there."

Solar Winds Hold Key To Many Things

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Imagine a hurricane wind smashing an invisible wall?

Space satellites are finding evidence that just such a collision occurs 40,000 miles from earth with dramatic effect. Dr. Louis A. Frank and Dr. James Van Allen of the State University of Iowa said today.

The wind is composed of atomic particles from the sun and smacks the walls of the earth's magnetic field at its outer limit.

The collision, Dr. Frank said, could explain why the shimmering northern lights turn on; why the earth has a long tail stretching out on its nightside; why radios sometimes black out; why some radiation hazards are for astronauts and, even how the outer Van Allen radiation belt is formed.

Frank 24, read the joint report to a symposium summarizing the results of the International Geophysical Year in 1957-58, when space satellite exploration began. It was then that the first Van Allen radiation belt girdling the earth was detected.

Subsequent data from satellites, especially explorers 10, 11 and 12 and 14, and the Soviet's Mars 1, 2 and Lunk 2, have formed this picture for scientists:

The solar wind, composed of electrons and protons, runs into the outer limits of the earth's magnetosphere, the field of magnetic force surrounding the earth about 40,000 miles out.

A shock wave is created when the solar wind, traveling many thousands of miles per hour, strikes this magnetic field. The wind bounces back but much of it could flow on around, pushing the earth's magnetic field into a tail on the dark side of the earth.

In an amplifying interview, Frank said the evidence could explain a number of phenomena, including some that are witnessed on earth.

It could explain why some of the solar wind particles reach earth to cause northern lights or produce storms high in the atmosphere that make radio communications fail.

Local Dance School Dates Back to 1944 In Nevada

Central Missouri's oldest established dance school had its beginning in 1944 at Nevada, Mo. The real beginning goes back even farther to the time when a little girl named Allene started her dance training at the early age of 5. The problem then as it is now, was that too few professional dancers teach; therefore Allene and her mother traveled far for dance lessons with the well known professional dance team, the Hepburn Sisters, Virginia and Joan. Allene inherited her dancing ability from her grandmother, Matilda Fingbinner who was known as the best waltzer in Germany.

It was quite by accident that Allene went into teaching. She had attended college two years and had danced professionally one year and had planned to make dancing a career—but she married Edward Harper and settled in Nevada, Mo. Being a dancer she had to dance so she started to teach.

The hardest thing for a professional dancer to do is learn to teach, she says. What is easy for a professional dancer is difficult for a beginner, and it was necessary to think back to what the very beginning was.

Shortly after opening the Nevada dance school the Harpers passed through Sedalia on a business trip and Allene was much impressed with the town and decided to open a dance school in Sedalia. Weekly trips were made to this community, sometimes by car (125 miles) and sometimes the Harpers flew their plane.

Times and things have changed since that beginning.

At present the dance studio is located in the Brine Building, 1716 West Ninth. But when the dance school was started in Sedalia, all of Limit Avenue and the area around 1716 West Ninth was nothing but country side that Allene passed on her way to her dance class in Sedalia.

Class was held at what was known as the Maccabee's Hall, located over what is now known as the Yellow Cab Co. The Hall was heated by a wood stove and the kindly caretaker was always sure to see that the place was warm and ready for dance class when Mrs. Harper arrived.

When the Harpers flew to Sedalia the only landing field was the Jack Funk airport in Dresden.

A bit later Allene was asked to start a school at the Mercy Academy in Marshall. First classes there were held at 8 a.m. Saturdays. Rarely was anyone absent and never was anyone late.

Two interested students in the Marshall class were Gladene and Steward Sherard. Mrs. Harper remembers them as very apt pupils. Stewart is now attending West Point Military Academy and still dances. Gladene is teaching in Kansas City.

Another pupil Mrs. Harper is proud of is Judy English, who won the title of Miss Sedalia this year. Judy during her earlier dance training lived in California, Mo., and traveled to Sedalia every week for her lessons. Judy's talent number for the contest was a tap which made Mrs. Harper very pleased.

Finally in 1950 the Harpers bought land in the Sedalia area, near Otterville, and built a home.

The Harpers being horse lovers organized the Otterville Boots and Saddle Club. Soon other localities followed suit and organized similar clubs. Everything was too good to last—in 1952 Edward Harper was killed while riding a horse—and in memory of her husband, Allene organized the Missouri State Saddle Club Association, serving as its president for two years until it was firmly established. The Association now boasts 70 saddle clubs as members.

Still in her twenties Allene had thought of going back to college or dancing again with a professional troupe but K. U. Love of the Sedalia Democrat told her she had a future in Sedalia so she stayed and continued the dance school. Even though she remarried in 1956 the school continued with the Harper name. Now she has a son, Javy, who at 2½ was the youngest performer at the Missouri State Fair, and who may possibly carry on the dance tradition of the family.

The problem now is the same as it was when Allene was a little girl. Too few professional dancers teach. So often dancing taught in dance schools are passe. Mrs. Harper has trained some teachers in professional type tapping and has helped them establish their own schools.

The one goal of Allene Harper is to train, or see in the direct cause of her training, a future world's greatest tap dancer. That future dancer could be anyone's little son or daughter.

The Harper story all started with a small classified ad in the Sedalia Democrat, following which the school grew, and grew, and grew into Central Missouri's oldest established dance school, the Harper School of Artistic Dance.

Says Golf Is Simply Too Dull

NEW YORK (AP)—An old British codger, hugging the 18th green at Royal Lytham and St. Anne's during the recent British Open Golf Championship, jabbed his shooting stick into the ground and commented dourly:

"The greens may be lightning fast, but the players—me thinks are bloody slow."

Fred Corcoran, tournament director of the International Golf Association, happened to be standing close by and he added a muffled "Amen."

"Golf is dragging itself out of business," Corcoran said. "It's getting so slow and dull, it's ridiculous."

"It takes five hours sometimes for a threesome to complete a round. It takes an hour and a half to show three holes on television. As in baseball, which was threatened with slow, draggy games, officials may be compelled to take measures to step up the tempo."

Corcoran, former PGA tournament manager who now directs the international Canada Cup matches, had the rare experience recently of seeing portions of three national championships—the British Open, the French Open and the U.S. PGA in the space of ten days.

"I never saw such slow, meticulous play and it isn't confined to any one country," the thick-necked Bostonian said. "One thing that is contributing to the long delays is the rule permitting the cleaning of the ball before every putt on the putting surface."

"This, however, is just one of the factors. Players have fallen into surveying habits. They'll walk from their ball in the fairway all the way to the green and back again before taking their shot. Often they'll take a half-dozen practice swings. Sometimes, on the greens, they'll stand frozen over the ball for minutes before striking it."

Corcoran said while in Britain he had an interesting chat with George Duncan, now 70, who won the British Open in 1920 and who is rated the fastest player ever in the game—a notch ahead of our own restless Gene Sarazen.

Duncan is the author of the famous credo: "miss 'em quick." Sarazen, one of the game's fastest players, often complained that one could get old while waiting for putts to drop. Jimmy Demaret said some players took so long on putts that it appeared they were waiting for the grass to grow.

Joe Dey, executive director of the U.S. Golf Association which oversees the game's code, said USGA surveys confirmed the fact that tournament golf had slowed up considerably in the past few years.

Dey, however, placed most of the blame on the players themselves rather than the rules.

"Putts these days can mean thousands of dollars, so players are more deliberate," he said. "The modern golfer is no longer just a golfer—he is also an actor."

Two Daily Workouts

Early Sessions For Football Team

It is an early hour, but prospective football players for Smith-Cotton high school are expected to head to the early morning sessions. Football practice has been set for two sessions each day until school starts and they are to be hard ones according to Coach Richard "Dick" Rees.

He has set the twice-daily workouts for 6 a.m. to 8 a.m. and from 6 p.m. until 8 p.m. After school begins the sessions will be somewhat changed to afternoon and nightly practice sessions preparing for the opening game on Sept. 15 with the Marshall high school Owls, an annual affair.

Coach Rees discussed the 1963 prospects, Tuesday night, reported he anticipated the presence of 45 boys for the first day. At least that many prospective players have indicated they desire to try out for the squad.

The Coach is well pleased over the work of a number of boys throughout recent weeks getting themselves in shape. Although, against the Missouri High School Activities Association, for boys to be coached by high school coaches or officials, the boys have taken it upon themselves to follow the Coaching Staff orders.

Thursday morning will be a busy one however. Issuing of uniforms and equipment will be the first item of the morning followed by some workout until 8 o'clock. At 9 o'clock in the morning physical examinations will be started and these examinations will also be for Freshmen boys reporting for football.

Coach Rees also explained he anticipates a lot more boys will be reporting by the last of the month, others not making the early sessions due to not being back from vacations and a few who are working and cannot be relieved from their chores until after fair week.

However, he also said, a number of boys who are working have made arrangements with their employers to report a half hour later so they can take up workouts.

Attention is called to the opening of the season for the Varsity. The first game will be at the Jennie Jaynes stadium on Friday night Sept. 13, when the Tigers meet one of their arch rivals, the Marshall high school Owls. They travel the following weekend to Independence where the Tigers clash with the William Chrisman Bruins return home on Sept. 27 for a Central Missouri Conference game with the Hannibal Pirates.

Smith-Cotton dropped their opener a year ago 6-19, and Coach Rees hopes to remedy that situation. "We may not win them all, but we are expecting to come up this year," he said.

Between the two championship games tonight, several individual trophies will be presented to Babe Ruth players. An award will be given for the rookie of the year, the batting champ, the most valuable player, the good sportsman trophy, and a special trophy yet to be announced.

Cards Gain One Game On The Dodgers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The St. Louis Cardinals picked up a full game on the National League leading Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night and Kansas City took a firmer grip on seventh place in the American League.

The A's behind two squeeze plays and two errors managed to defeat Detroit in Kansas City 4-2 although outlast 11 to 5.

St. Louis rode to a 4-2 victory over the Houston Colts behind a three-run double in the first inning by Ken Boyer and a single, an error and a sacrifice fly in the fourth for the final run.

Dave Wicksham started for Kansas City but the victory went to Ted Bowsfield with one and a third innings of one-hit relief. John Wyatt finished up by striking out two Tigers in the ninth.

The loss was charged to Jim Bunning.

Kansas City scored twice in the fifth on a single, force out, a double, an error, and a punt.

Detroit scored on a triple and a ground out in the sixth and tied it in the seventh on a single, stolen base and another single.

The A's then won it in the eighth on a walk, a single and another error.

Ernie Broglio limited Houston to 8-hits as the Cards moved to within five games of Los Angeles. He kept the Colts under control except for Al Spangler's first-inning homer, and a triple by John Bateman and a single to Jim Wynn in the eighth.

Moe Drabowsky will start for the A's tonight in Kansas City against Detroit's Hank Aguirre.

Ray Sadecki will pitch for the Cards in Bush Stadium against Ken Johnson of the Colts.

Kansas City Chiefs

Reduced to 44 Men

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Chiefs released Sammie Leonard, a defensive lineman and reduced the camp roster to 44 Tuesday. They must cut six more players before opening day.

The regular season roster totals 33, with up to five players on the taxi squad, an emergency unit used only in the event of injuries.

Leonard missed a week of practice because of a cut near the right eye. He has prospects of landing a coaching job at a high school in his home town, Fort Worth, Tex.

Enthusiastic About Shula Coaching Job

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Shula, the new coach of the Baltimore Colts, got the job because Carroll Rosenbloom, owner of the club, said he wanted to "give the game back to the football players."

Rosenbloom is enthusiastic about the progress made by Shula in his first head coaching job. In their first pre-season game, the Colts defeated Philadelphia 26-21. They play the Cleveland Browns Saturday night in the second half of a doubleheader at Cleveland.

"Team spirit is vitally important in any game, especially in pro football," said Rosenbloom. "It is important that all the players want to play for the coach."

Rosenbloom, who fired Weeb Ewbank last winter after the end of the National Football League season and hired Shula to replace him, had only the best to say for Ewbank, now coach of the New York Jets in the rival American Football League.

"Weeb believes that the coach is supreme," he said. "I wanted to set up committees of the players to handle fines for any infractions," said Rosenbloom. "Weeb didn't think that was the way to handle it."

"People said that we got rid of Weeb because he used Lenny Moore as an inside runner. That wasn't the case at all. I don't think Weeb was wrong in doing that. Shula is doing it too. I think Don expects to let Lenny run the option play more than Weeb did."

"In fairness to Weeb, I do think we would have done better last year if it had not been for injuries. Remember, we lost Moore for six weeks. Weeb is a good fundamentalist. Sometimes he is a little stubborn. We still are good friends."

Rosenbloom said he had been impressed by Shula since his days as a defensive halfback with the Colts.

"Don never was a great player, just average," he said. "He always was taking pictures, talking football. He always had wanted to coach. From us he went down to Virginia as an assistant and then Kentucky. He did a great job as defensive coach at Detroit the last three years. I feel strongly that he is going to be great. He's only 33. Some of the players are older than that."

Rosenbloom said the Colts' rookie crop of John Mackey of Syracuse, Bob Vogel of Ohio State, Fred Miller of LSU, George Wilson of Alabama, Willie Richardson of Jackson State and Jim Maples of Baylor has shown to advantage. Mackey or Wilson will wind up as regular tight end, Vogel at offensive tackle, Miller at defensive tackle and Richardson at defensive back or flanker. Maples is a linebacker.

The Colts came up with a new field goal kicker who has shunted Dick Bielski out of that job. He is Grady Wade, a free agent from Vanderbilt who booted one 49 yards against the Eagles.

New Record for Spahn

Milwaukee Downs LA Dodgers 4-3

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It was all very simple. No bugles blaring, bombs bursting, or lightning flashing.

Hawk-nosed old Warren Spahn

Spahn Claims New Record For a Lefty

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves' great Warren Spahn, counting his years at 42 and fighting recurring arm trouble, has claimed another record—striking out more batters than any left-handed pitcher in baseball's history.

Spahn admitted after reaching the milestone in a 4-3 decision over the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night that records were nice to own but the victory was the important thing.

In taking the triumph, Spahn fanned five Dodgers—running his total to 2,383, or two more than Rube Waddell's 53-year-old mark. Only five other pitchers, all of them right-handers, have fanned more in all baseball's history.

Spahn said he knew four strikeouts would give him the record. "I don't strike out too many," he said, "so I figured that if the pitcher came up four times, I'd be able to get it."

And the record went to Spahn when he fanned Los Angeles reliever Bob Miller in the seventh inning. The Dodger hurler was called out when he took a fast ball on the outside corner.

"A fellow dreams about things like that," said Spahn. "You know—striking out the big hitter, having him take a vicious swing and missing it. Instead, I get out the pitcher—and on a called strike. But I'll take it—it's a big thrill."

What's next for Spahn, who ran his lifetime victory total to 341 and his season count to 14-5? It's not retirement.

"I'll never quit," he declared. "They'll have to tear off my uniform."

"Having a decent year so I can be back the next season" is his goal. "I'll keep going as long as my arm will let me. There are too many good pitchers here. If I'm out for any length of time I may not get back. I've got to pitch this year to get a job next year, and the one after that and the one after that."

Spahn, who had the first major arm trouble of his career last fall, has had two more bouts with tendonitis in his elbow this season. The first kept him out 18 days early in July and the second sidelined him July 29.

His appearance against the Dodgers marked his return to action, as he seeks his 13th season of 20 or more victories.

Weary Look For Leading Quarterback

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Len Dawson wears a weary expression and seldom talks off the field, but his manner is deceiving. He's the leader of the Kansas City Chiefs and probably the American Football League's best quarterback.

Dawson was a benchwarmer in five seasons at Pittsburgh and Cleveland, a strange turn of events for a passer who was the National Football League's No. 1 draft choice in 1956.

It's hard to believe, Dawson said, "but they just had no confidence in me."

Dawson got his chance when Hank Stram, Chiefs coach who was his backfield coach at Purdue turned the club over to him in 1962.

Dawson calls most of the plays for the Chiefs, and he believes this policy of Stram's was a major factor in the team's surge to the AFL championship last fall. Some pro coaches call all the plays.

"This puts the game more in the hands of the players and serves as an inspiration for the club," he said.

"Coach Stram has great imagination in his offense but the big thing is the way he handles men and develops their confidence."

Dawson was the AFL's top passer from start to finish in '62, completing 61 per cent of his 30 passes for 2,749 yards and 29 touchdowns. He's proud of his low figure of 17 interceptions.

"Lennie success was no surprise to me," Stram said.

Dawson believes the Chiefs are strong enough to repeat as AFL champs because of an outstanding group of pass receivers led by Chris Burford.

"I could count on one hand the passes my receivers dropped last year," Dawson said.

29th Annual Tournament Opens Friday

WICHITA (AP)—Seventeen days of baseball begin at Wichita Friday as the National Baseball Congress opens its 29th annual tournament.

Thirty-two teams will compete and 10 games are scheduled this weekend in the double-elimination affair.

RECORD BOUND—In jet-powered racer "Spirit of America" Craig Breedlove is tearing toward a world land speed record on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah. Breedlove made two-way run with average speed of 407.45 miles per hour, eclipsing the 394.196 set by Britain's John Cobb in 1947.

Grand Old Man Of Football 101 On Friday

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, the grand old man of football, will pass his 101st birthday Friday.

Though Stagg's senses are gradually failing as he lives in a Stockton convalescent home, he's still alert enough to recognize faces and remember his players, as Navy Coach Wayne Hardin learned Tuesday.

Hardin, who played for Stagg at then-College of The Pacific in 1947, visited the former Yale All-American before a civic birthday luncheon in Stagg's honor.

"I shook hands with him and he still recognized me," Hardin proudly told the luncheon audience. "He said to me, 'Wayne's a good boy,' and that's something I'll always treasure."

A year ago Stagg appeared at his 100th birthday celebration but this time he could not.

Stagg came to Stockton in 1933 to coach at COP after his mandatory retirement from the University of Chicago, where he coached for 41 years.

He retired from COP in 1947, helped his son at Susquehanna for six years, then returned to Pacific as advisory coach.

In 1960 he wrote Coach Larry Kentera: "It is with a deep feeling of regret that I will not be able to accept your invitation to come out for football practice this year. For the past 70 years I have been coach. At 98 years of age, it seems a good time to stop."

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP)—Seven players were released Tuesday by the Denver Broncos of the American Football League. They included ends Sam Smith of Wichita and Charlie Tidwell of Kansas.

Mike McCormack Says He's Really Retired

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Mike McCormack, who became one of the National Football League's best offensive tackles in 10 years with the Cleveland Browns, says he is retired for good.

The former Browns captain and Kansas star was emphatic in his refusal of a bid to come out of retirement.

"No thanks, I'm happy right here," he said. "I never mentioned anything when I retired last year about coming back if they got into trouble."

"That was only theory. They are just whistling in the dark."

McCormack, 33, is selling insurance in Kansas City. Galen Fiss and Ray Renfro of the Browns called him Monday and asked him to return. Arthur Modell, team president, also called him recently.

In Cleveland's first exhibition game, tackle Monte Clark suffered a knee injury.

Call Rebuttal Witnesses In Libel Suit

ATLANTA (AP)—University of Georgia officials were prepared to take the witness stand today in Curtis Publishing Co.'s defense against a $10-million libel suit filed by Wally Butts, former Georgia athletic director.

Attorneys for Butts said they would rest their case today in the wake of testimony Tuesday contradicting the publishing firm's key witness in its football-fix charges against Butts.

Dr. O. C. Aderhold, university president, and members of the athletic board were under subpoena as rebuttal witnesses for Curtis.

The trial entered its eighth day after testimony from William C. Hartman Jr., who coached Butts' football at Georgia during Butts' 21-year tenure as head coach of the Bulldogs.

Hartman said he was at a Feb. 22 meeting of university officials who confronted Butts with the substance of an affidavit given by George P. Burnett, Atlanta insurance salesman.

Burnett has testified he accidentally was cut into a call last Sept. 13 and heard Butts giving data on Georgia's team to Alabama coach Paul (Bear) Bryant. The Curtis-owned Saturday Evening Post used Burnett's affidavit as the substance of an article charging that Butts and Bryant rigged the 1962 Georgia-Alabama game.

"His (Butts) remark was that he had talked with Bryant many times... but that it (the conversation) had been misconstrued," Hartman said.

Earlier, a former associate of Burnett, John Carmichael, testified that the notes were not the same that Burnett had immediately after replacing the telephone Sept. 13.

Hartman testified he did not

Paul Klover Is Speaker At Optimist

Paul Klover was the speaker at Optimist Club Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel taking for his subject: "Soccer."

The Optimist Club sponsored the Soccer Leagues last year when the game was introduced to Sedalia for the first time. At that time business firms and other organizations sponsored teams in the leagues.

Klover explained the operation of the leagues sponsorship and the cost. He had on display the typical soccer shoes and the shin guards.

The cost of sponsoring a team, he stated is about $90 a team for 16 players. The ages for soccer teams are from 7 to 17, and these are divided into age groups. The greatest problem, Klover said, is to find managers and coaches to work with the boys.

The program will begin and practice will start on Aug. 31, with the League games beginning Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 21 and 22. He told the group that there were a couple of teams from La-Monte wanting to play here this year. Also, he had had letters telling him that several St. Louis teams would like to come here for games.

The championship teams that were here for an exhibition game last year were amazed at the progress that had been made by the young Sedalia soccer players in the short time they had been playing.

The Optimist Club voted a recommendation for again sponsoring the Soccer Leagues this year, which would be given to its president, Ed Mitchell, for consideration.

The meeting was presided over by Wray Schroeder, second vice-president, in the absence of the president.

Invocation was given by Emmett Hood, and Joe Forsee led the singing with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

The speaker was introduced by Tom Delph, program chairman.

Man Recuperating

ROSEVILLE, Calif.—A man who lay 600 feet down a remote Northern California canyon for 60 hours next to a dead friend was reported recuperating and in good condition at a hospital.

James D. Patten, 56, of Auburn, was a passenger Friday night in a car driven by Roscoe F. Boyer, 52, of Placerville, a fellow-employee at a bedding firm. The car skidded off a back road into a canyon on the middle fork of the American River. Both men were thrown out. Boyer was killed. Patten was too seriously injured to crawl back to the road for help.

Logging truck driver J. C. Martin noticed the skid marks Monday and found Patten.

Road Is Closed

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Russell Pyle of North Coventry Township complained to the Board of Supervisors Monday night that a steep, rocky road leading to his home was dangerous. He said the supervisors ought to repair it, pointing out they would be held liable if anyone got hurt.

The supervisors quickly agreed. They closed the road.

Pyle can still reach his home but he has to take a different road.

Anniversary Of Robbery A Year Ago

By HENRY SUPPLE
PLYMOUTH, Mass. (AP) — A year ago today, a well-rehearsed band of white-gloved shotgun bandits held up a small U. S. mail truck in this historic town and made off with the nation's biggest cash haul—$1,551,277.

The only thing to top it in the world was the estimated more than $7 million taken last week from a train at Cheddington, England, by a well-drilled gang of about 30 masked men.

For a full year, a crew of postal inspectors—sometimes 60, and as many as 75—has worked on the Plymouth case. To date, none of the money has been found.

William F. White, chief New England postal inspector, is in charge of the dogged pursuit of the bandits. He is a patient man. He makes it clear that he cannot divulge all the information the inspectors have uncovered.

He did say this: Investigators have made progress; they have solid suspects. He has "the highest hopes the case will be solved before the second anniversary."

White takes pride in pointing out that the postal service has a record of 99 per cent convictions.

Only witnesses to the robbery were the victims—Philip Schena, driver of the truck, and guard Patrick Barrett. They were headed for the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston with money picked up from Cape Cod banks.

It was dusk on a warm summer evening as the mail truck rolled along Route 3, a smooth, wide highway. There were few cars on the road.

Barrett recalled, "The first thing we knew a car passed us at 80 miles an hour. Then a police officer — we thought he was — stepped out on the road and flagged us down."

Barrett had no way of knowing the man in police uniform was one of the robber gang.

After the mail truck had passed Clark Road, which turns off Route 3 into Plymouth proper, the "policeman" placed a detour sign at the junction, stepped back to the bandit car which then roared ahead to get in front of the mail truck.

The sign diverted traffic from Route 3 and left the bandits undisturbed as they stepped from shrubbery and pointed guns at the mail truck men.

Barrett recalled, "They leaped into the truck and shoved us back. They told us to keep quiet. They tied us up. Then we just sat there until they finally got out and left us."

That was about a half-hour later. The robbers, meanwhile, drove the mail truck north for about 25 miles. They tossed out money bags—15 of them—to confederates along the way.

The gang abandoned the mail truck at Randolph. Schena and Barrett untied themselves in minutes and gave the alarm.

At the outset, White said he believed the gang consisted of five men and a woman. A year later he said the question of whether a woman was involved is still open to discussion. Reward money totalling $200,000 has been offered by various agencies.

The biggest previous cash robbery in the United States was the 1950 Brink's heist in Boston. The loot then was $1,219,000. Eight men are serving life for it.

To Decide On Fate Of $1,000 Donation

TOPEKA (AP) — The State School Fund Commission will decide—possibly today—what to do with $1,000 that was sent anonymously to the governor's office.

The money, all in $20 bills, was in an envelope with an unsigned letter which arrived in the mail Monday.

The letter read: "Dear Governor: 'I wish to contribute this to our fine, but much maligned schools. For personal reasons, I wish to keep this anonymous and without publicity.'"

The envelope bore a Topeka postmark dated Sunday.

Gov. John Anderson called a meeting of the School Fund Commission for a decision on handling the money. One official said it might go into a special school fund from which only earnings go to schools.

The model was being used by Bendix engineers in developing landing gear for a featherlight touchdown. Young lady holds an actual leg for the LEM, the first full-scale strut to be made. Echoes of Communist Rift Sound In Latin America

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The Red Chinese, bidding for leadership of Communists in the underdeveloped world, are trying to capture that element among Latin America's young men who would welcome any change, so long as it is violent.

Echoes of the Soviet-Chinese quarrel reverberate loudly among Latin American Communists. In many areas, they already are divided into the contending camps.

There are not many Communists in Latin America—perhaps about a quarter of a million card-carrying followers. But Castroism provided them with fruitful sources for recruiting fellow-travelers. Their potential for mischief is big in an area smoldering with revolutionary restlessness.

Red China's line is revolution at any cost. This appeals to young men who ache for swift upheaval.

The Soviet line advocates violence only where it does not raise the threat of U.S. intervention and possible involvement of Moscow in a dangerous crisis. The Soviet line preaches capture of labor movements, strikes and demonstrations, electoral campaigns for seats in parliaments, united fronts with other parties of the left, all manner of opposition against established regimes.

Nowhere have the results of the argument been so clearly crystallized as in Brazil, which is beset by monumental economic and political problems. In Brazil, the Communist party—illegal but operating openly—seems to be ripped apart.

Last month at a Communist-backed "seminar of students from underdeveloped countries" in Brazil, the meeting broke into two camps. Pro-Russians rammed through a resolution supporting both peaceful and non-peaceful ways to revolution, but they won only because of support from leftist but non-Communist students. Most of the Communists in the delegations leaned to the Chinese line.

Today, Brazil has two Communist parties.

The splinter group is the Communist party of Brazil which has about 5,000 card-carrying followers and is headed by a three-man committee. Its adherents are mostly young men and extremists from the hungry, violence-minded northeast, chronically poverty-stricken.

The Brazilian Communist party is pro-Russian. It has about 30,000 card-carrying followers. Its leaders, veteran Luis Carlos Prestes, in the best Moscow tradition call the other group "anti-party."

Both sides watch Cuba as a key to their future. But the Communist of Cuba themselves seem divided.

Despite Prime Minister Fidel Castro's heavy dependence of the Soviet Union for his regime's existence, his lieutenants are pushing the violence line espoused by the Chinese.

Castro calls his revolution an example to Latin America. Like the Chinese, he appeals to young men. His brand of communism has young, violence-minded zealots in many areas.

Guerrilla fighters long have been active in Venezuela, attempting to prevent orderly elections this year and to reduce the nation to chaos. In Ecuador, during the regime of the recently deposed President Carlos Arosemena, terrorism was popular with young revolutionary elements.

In Mexico and Central America, there are signs that the Communists are dividing into two camps. Castro agents are reported stepping up their activities on behalf of the violent line in Central America.

In Peru, which has about 10,000 card-carrying Communists, the SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — The Department of Fish and Game continued an investigation today into 3,000 or more fish killed last weekend in an irrigation canal.

A department spokesman reported the large kill Monday, and said it will be a couple of days before officials determine the cause.

There have been several very large kills this year in Northern California waters, due largely to improper use of pesticides.

pro-Chinese are the young militants fired by the Castro example. Older Communist leaders, following Moscow, concede their frustration and embarrassment.

MFA Resolutions Warn Against Monopolies

Resolutions adopted by the annual convention of the Missouri Farmers Association warned that monopolists were anxious to gain control of the production and distribution of food and to destroy family farms.

Championing the family farm as a successful, productive economic and social force the MFA said the family farm was more than just a piece of land tilled by people related by blood or marriage.

The group declared the increased financial demands needed to mechanize and the shrinking number of processors handling the raw materials produced by 3½ million independently operated farms present a threat to the future of our family farm economy.

The state's largest farm organization suggested an improved system of financing family farm operations was needed and that the efficiency of our family farms will be of little benefit to the farmers or to the consuming public if processing and distribution outlets become further concentrated and less competitive.

Farmer-owned cooperatives, large enough to do the processing and distribution job required, are ideally suited for serving the family farm, they contend.

The MFA urged a permanent federal farm program providing for effective supply adjustment coupled with fair price supports. They suggested this could be accomplished with marketing agreements, a continuation of the corn and feed grains program after 1965, a voluntary wheat program with acreage allotments and certified marketing quotas on a hushel basis, a voluntary supply adjustment program for milk and dairy products and enabling legislation of the Dairyman's Class I Base Plan, and by encouragement of the family farm system of agriculture.

The resolutions called for more emphasis on the part of private and public research agencies on study of methods of processing, packaging and handling farm products and that research into new uses for present crops and new crops be increased.

The food stamp program has proved successful in pilot areas, the MFA declared, and should be expanded into a permanent national program at the earliest practical date.

The group commended the efforts of the Rural Area Development Program to develop industry in rural areas but warned that pirating plants at the expense of another rural community was bad.

The MFA favored a study with particular emphasis on future needs and sources of revenue for public school use. During the past 15 years school bond indebtedness in Missouri has increased more than 1,000 per cent—from 33 million in 1949 to 363 million in 1962. This bonded indebtedness is repaid solely from local property tax.

The Food for Peace program was applauded and the resolutions urged a realistic view by Congress of the nation's food reserve policy declaring "We are concerned at the apparent lack of vision by this nation in failing to recognize the importance of stocking food for national defense." Major metropolitan areas are supplied food in almost a hand-to-mouth basis. Any action which would disrupt transportation for a few days could be expected to cause a critical food problem. The MFA said adequately-supplied and strategically-located food depots could prevent panic and provide minimum food until order could be restored.

The Missouri River was called "the Midwest's greatest undeveloped resource" and the organization suggested that a 9-foot navigation channel "would cause the banks of this great river, from St. Louis to the Iowa Line, to bloom with new industrial plants." It would permit the same 20- by 40 foot barges, now loaded with only 1,000 tons, to carry 1,600 tons. Farmers would benefit by lower freight costs on supplies and from lower shipping costs on the grain exported.

The MFA again affirmed their support of the Missouri Valley Authority as the best means of developing the resources of the Missouri River basin.

The group stated that they favored existing laws governing the labeling and usage of pesticides but urged that U.S. Department of Agriculture authority be extended to close the loophole for "registration under protest" and to require publication of federal registration numbers on labels of pesticides in inter-state commerce.

The resolutions pointed out that oil and gas, minerals and other natural deposits are permitted a percentage depletion allowance for income tax purposes. The MFA asked for a similar depletion allowance for farmers for use of soil resources.

The General Assembly was urged to pass a "Good Samaritan" law providing for immunity from liability to all persons, including doctors and hospitals, who render emergency treatment and aid to injured people.

The resolutions argued that the REA should continue to have the opportunity to serve patrons in territories developed because of power supplied by these co-operations.

Return To China

TOKYO (AP)—The third group of Chinese repatriates from India returned to Communist China aboard the S.S. Kuangshu Monday, the New China News Agency reported. It said there were 300.

The 14-year-old delivery boy for the Manchester Union Leader went home, changed clothes and left on his paper route.

Police said Billy was lucky to be alive.

With four friends, Billy was investigating the huge sewer pipe leading from a manhole near his home. A sudden roar brought the hand up short. Billy was swept away by a burst of water which carried him near the outlet in the Merrimack River.

Billy said he grabbed a wire mesh screen and hung on until the water subsided. Then he scrambled up the pipe to the nearest opening.

Police said they had no doubt the first thing Billy did was change clothes.

The 318th Fighter Interceptor Squadron of McChord Air Force Base, Wash., finished Monday with 5,300 points, 100 ahead of the 5th Fighter Interceptor Squadron of Minot Air Force Base, N.D.

Called "Operation Runway"

the competition judges "kills," pilot efficiency, weapons control and other factors when the planes fly missions against target aircraft. The operation is being staged from Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base at Grandview.

Compromising With Speed

A basic purpose of the Missouri State Highway Department in developing Urban highways in communities such as Sedalia is to expedite external travel into and through the city; also to accelerate the movement of internal traffic, and to relieve major internal traffic congestion.

This in some measure explains why the highway department contrives to minimize installation of signal lights and maximize urban speed limits with due regard, of course, to safety factors.

The policy is to keep the traffic moving.

Currently disagreement is developing between the City of Sedalia and the Missouri Highway Commission over signal lights and speed limits.

The Highway Commission for has encouraged Sedalia to raise the 30 and 40 mile speed limits at least five miles per hour. City councils have remained cold to the proposal.

Limit avenue is a part of the Urban plan development. It has seen rapid commercial growth and as much as 50% increase in traffic count in the past five years. So city council appealed to the Highway Commission for traffic signal lights at 32nd Street and Limit avenue, and also at 16th street and Limit avenue. Thereupon, another traffic volume count was made with the result that the commission determined that no signal is warranted at the 32nd street location.

However, the commission did agree to a signal light at 16th street, but with an "iffy" proviso that the speed limits on both Highways 65 and 50 be revised to a recommended 5 miles per hour increase.

The cold fact is there ought or ought not to be a light at 16th street and Limit avenue based solely on accepted standards of determination of the traffic volume and hazards there not only during the middle of the week but on week ends.

Raising the speed limits 5 miles per hour on Route 65, and certainly on Route 50, have nothing to do with a light at 16th street except by most extreme stretching of the imagination.

This sort of compromise, or barter, call it what you may, seems rather stultifying to those who believe the speed limits on Urban Highways 65 and 50 should be lowered rather than raised.

Conceivably, higher speeds may minimize congestion but certainly they will contribute to indigestion when customers try to leave the many eating establishments on Limit avenue.

Light or no light at 16th street, we are unconvinced that raising the speed limits as proposed will be anything but disastrous ultimately to life, limb and property on our Urban highways.

That may be an "old fogey's" opinion; but there it is for what it is worth.

City council and the Traffic Advisory Committee will consider the matter Monday night.

Kefauver Never Bowed to the Bosses

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson has gone abroad to interview world leaders and report on the prospects for peace. The Washington scene is covered by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — If President Kennedy should choose to expand his book, "Profiles in Courage," I suggest he write about the only man who ever bested him in politics, who took the vice presidential nomination away from him in 1956: the late Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.).

This Lincoln of a man, homespun, ungainly, often stood alone in the United States Senate. But he stood tall.

Consider these flashbacks:

Flashback, 1956—Kefauver dug deep into his own pocket, mortgaging his home and hiring out as a lecturer, to pay off old campaign bills. Yet as a presidential candidate in 1956, despite his campaign poverty, he refused a $10,000 contribution with strings attached.

All he had to do was condemn, in a public speech, a United Nations pronouncement against Israel. This would be worth $10,000 to his destitute campaign, he was told. But Kefauver, though pro-Israel, refused to bargain for his contributions.

Flashback, 1954—The late Senator Joe McCarthy threatened to attack Kefauver in Tennessee, painting him as a political pink, if Kefauver accepted an invitation to speak against McCarthy in Wisconsin.

Estes took up the warning with his staff, listened silently as each one begged him not to pick a fight with McCarthy on the eve of the Tennessee elections. He thanked them for their advice, then quietly announced his decision: "McCarthy is bad for the country. I reckon I'll have to say so."

Minority of One

Flashback, 1954 — Stung by charges they were soft on communism, Democratic senators introduced a bill to outlaw the Communist party and dared the Republicans to vote for it. This would have subjected people to prosecution because of their political beliefs.

But the Republicans accepted the challenge and lined up unanimously with the Democrats for the bill. Only Kefauver, refusing to play politics, stood against it.

His anguished political advisers warned that his stand would be misinterpreted back home, that he would be called a red.

"The least you can do," begged a friend, phoning from Tennessee, "is duck out on the vote."

But the final rollcall was 81 to 1; Kefauver was the lone dissenter.

(Later, the bill was pigeonholed after FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover joined Kefauver in warning that it not only would be unconstitutional but also would be a disaster for the country.)

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Included among 98 non-federal projects approved by the public works administration is a $28,636 school at Houstonia, according to an announcement from Washington.

FORTY YEARS AGO

The Queen City Council No. 546, Security Benefit Association, met in I.O.O.F. building and elected Russell K. Weinrich, employed in the Third National Bank, secretary, to succeed R. L. Hogan who resigned recently.

tional but would drive the Communists underground.)

Flashback, 1952—In the presidential race, Kefauver bucked the party bosses, beat all comers in the primaries, and entered the Democratic convention with the most pledged delegates. Still, he needed more support to win the nomination.

Texas Governor Allen Shivers, boss of the big Texas delegation, chose this crucial moment to pay a secret call on Kefauver. Shivers wanted to know how the senator felt about turning the tidelands over to the states, so the big oil companies could drill for oil.

No Deal

Would Kefauver agree to let Congress decide the issue and not use the veto if he were elected President? No, said Kefauver. Would Kefauver agree to turn offshore oil over to the states within a three-mile limit? No, Kefauver said again.

Thus Texas slipped irretrievably from his grasp. And he lost the nomination on the third ballot after leading the first two.

Flashback, 1950 — Digging into organized crime, Kefauver turned over a compost pile of gangland-political connections. Deep in the pile was a $2,500 contribution that crime czar Frank Costello had given to the Democratic national committee in 1947.

"Is this to be brought out at the public hearings?" demanded Democratic leaders.

"It is," said the senator. And it was.

Flashback, 1949—Though a southerner, Kefauver managed to stir up the mighty wrath of the south by supporting civil rights legislation. When a resolution was offered to curb Senate filibusters, Kefauver at once announced support for it.

Thus the Senate was treated to the unusual spectacle of a senator speaking with southern accent against the filibuster.

Flashback, 1920—Kefauver came out of the Tennessee hills to the University of Tennessee, a straw suitcase in one hand, a cap perched atop his head. Tightly drawn against his huge bulk was an ill-fitting suit, which seemed red in one light, green in another. Across his chest in a neat row were all the ribbons Estes had accumulated for perfect attendance at Sunday School.

Clothes Disappear

He was greeted by a cousin, Thomas Walker, who dutifully brought Kefauver into his fraternity. That alternating red-and-green, mail-order suit offended the eyes of Estes' fraternity brothers. (Not to mention his yellow shoes, his shrunken cap, his array of Sunday School pins.)

Solemnly, they conspired to swipe Kefauver's colorful clothes and force him to buy a new wardrobe. Thus began the mystery of the missing duds, which was to puzzle Estes throughout his freshman year.

He would return from class to find a pair of orange socks gone. A week later his shoes disappeared. Then his cap. And one night, while he slept, the miracle suit of two colors vanished into the night.

From this unlikely beginning, Estes Kefauver went on to become editor of the college newspaper, president of the junior class, president of the All-Students Club, president of the Southern Federation of College Students, and a football star who earned the affectionate nickname, "Old Ironsides."

He continued on to Yale and academic glory. He became a corporation lawyer, a congressman, a senator and a presidential candidate.

But he never lost touch with the Tennessee Hills, with the everyday people who make up the backbone of America.

They are the ones now who will miss him the most.

Climax Atop of Climax In Washington

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington is in a slow swirl, psychologically and politically.

It waits for the massive civil rights demonstration Aug. 28, hoping that whole memorable day will go off peacefully.

Negotiations between railroads and unions are stalemated. Unless some way is found to stop it, there will be a railroad strike Aug. 29.

The arrival and departure of 100,000 or more demonstrators in one day, even if everything is peaceful, will be an unforgettable burden.

But to have the demonstration followed the next day by a rail strike would be piling climax on climax.

While the city waits, Congress, hunkering along at the slowest pace in years, continues to drag its feet and may be here until the end of the year.

The center of this quiet stage is occupied now, and will be for a couple of weeks, by Senate hearings on the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

That treaty, once approved, could be a fiendish embarrassment to the Kennedy administration if the Russians then try tricks to American disadvantage. If nothing goes wrong, it will be an asset to President Kennedy in seeking re-election. If it goes wrong it will be an issue in the 1964 campaign.

The administration, conscious of both possibilities, acknowledges risk but insists the treaty's advantages outweigh the disadvantages.

The two most likely Republican presidential candidates as of now—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater—are conscious of the for and against possibilities too.

Both have provided themselves an "I told you so" if the treaty proves a dud.

The treaty has wide popular support, it seems sure to pass the Senate by a wide margin, and neither Rockefeller nor Goldwater has come out against it.

Rockefeller, in fact, has suggested it be approved but then he added a list warning of things to look out for.

But most of the things he warned about already had been discussed in one way or another by the administration.

For instance, he said this country should "pursue research and development in the vital area of antimissile defense."

He said that Sunday, Aug. 11. But on Aug. 1 at his news conference Kennedy said developing an antimissile missile is "beyond us and beyond the Soviets."

He was supported in this Tuesday by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He said developing an antimissile system is something neither the United States nor Russia has solved. But he didn't say it was impossible.

And Tuesday Goldwater, who hasn't yet gone as far as Rockefeller in saying the treaty should be supported, added his warning.

He hammered on the antimissile business, too, saying he wants "iron-clad assurance" development in this field won't be inhibited by the treaty.

Goldwater is an Air Force Reserve major general.

McNamara told the committee:

"I know of no one of my senior scientific advisers and no one on the Joint Chiefs of Staff who recommend against the treaty with safeguards."

Arguments about the treaty should provide the most excitement in Washington until the civil rights demonstration two weeks from today.

DEAR POLLY — For years I have been doing a special washing of black and red shorts, slacks and so on because I was afraid they might run and ruin something else in the wash. Today it occurred to me that I could easily find out which things did run. I keep my husband's old undershirts for cleaning rags. Today I pinned one of these white undershirts inside each questionable garment and put them in the washing machine. After going through the washing, rinsing and drying cycles, it was quite obvious which were safe to wash with other colored things. I know this is going to save me lots of separate batches of wash. It also will relieve my mind about having others do my laundry now. I know which garments NOT to send out with the other things. — LIVIE.

DEAR POLLY — I enjoy your column but that question mark with candles on a birthday cake should never have happened. It could be the end of a beautiful friendship for anyone sensitive about his age. I can see it leading to an embarrassing situation and think it shows lack of tact and consideration. It would be better to have no candles at all or even Jack Benny's 39 might bring a jolly laugh if handled right. I have always been our family's cake baker and when my brother married a lady quite a few years older than he, I found it in much better taste, in my opinion, to use just three candles because a birthday cake without candles is like a bomb without a fuse, a fizzle. The three candles are for THE PAST, THE PRESENT and THE FUTURE. Then there is no need to bring up the question of how many, no probing and no embarrassed silence. I am 43, glad of it and not ashamed of my gray hair but if anyone wants his age kept a secret why not let him do it with dignity? — MRS. E. H.

GIRLS — I would be flattered to think there was some doubt as to how old I am. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Washing floor registers can be a very simple chore if you have an automatic washer that empties into a laundry tub. Pile them in the laundry tub and as the hot sudsy water empties into the tub, after each washing and rinsing, it cleans the registers. Rinsing a small brush over the registers before the final rinse and the job is done. Wipe dry. Vacuum the exposed hot air outlet and replace the registers. — J. O. H.

Cold Chicken War Perils
The Trade Expansion Act

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — Ten months after passage of the Trade Expansion Act that was supposed to make the American export business boom, U. S. negotiations with the European Common Market on tariff reductions are in a bad way.

Negotiation of an East-West nonaggression pact with Russia is beginning to look simple by comparison with getting the European countries to reduce their tariffs on frozen poultry imports from the United States.

Three principal causes are given for this cold chicken war. First is the Common Market's refusal to admit Britain as a member.

The second factor is that the six countries in the European Economic Community — EEC — have never given Common Market authorities full power to negotiate for all of them. This gives every member a veto power over tariff reductions.

Finally, the European governments want to retain the European poultry market for their own small farmers, barring competition from American poultrymen.

All this was supposed to be worked out by early August. But France and West Germany in particular refused to allow tariff cuts on American poultry imports.

This means that the issue will have to go before General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade—GATT negotiations. They are scheduled to open in Geneva in September.

Also scheduled for September is President Kennedy's submission to the U. S. Tariff Commission of the long list of articles on which this country will propose across-the-board tariff reductions of up to 50 per cent, under the new trade law.

Actual negotiation of these changes with the Common Market countries is now set for May 4, 1964. Most of the difficulty is expected in negotiating tariffs on agricultural products.

U. S. industrial goods trade with the six Common Market countries balanced roughly at $3.5 billion each way in 1962. But last year the U. S. exported $1.2 billion in agricultural products to the Common Market countries and imported only $250 million worth from them. This gave the U. S. a favorable trade balance of nearly $1 billion it wants to keep.

American poultry exports of $20 million U. S. value and $50 million at European wholesale levels in 1962 is a relatively small item, but it causes the most trouble. Over 90 per cent of these exports went to Germany, where tariffs have been raised from 4 to 16 cents a pound since 1958. The rate is now 10 cents a pound on value of the poultry itself, plus 6 cents feed grain differential.

European refusal to lower such tariffs may be the beginning of a trade war. This is the British reaction to U. S. trade czar Christian A. Herter's announcement of hearings to open Sept. 4 on retaliatory increases of U. S. tariffs.

If retaliatory increases are put into effect on both sides of the Atlantic, the whole purpose of the Trade Expansion Act will be defeated.

The Tariff Commission is given six months in which to advise the President on economic effects of these cuts.

During this same period, a U. S. Trade Information Committee of seven government department representatives will hold hearings on the proposed cuts. Here any American business firm may file objections to any proposed changes in tariff rates.

S. a favorable trade balance of nearly $1 billion it wants to keep.

American poultry exports of $20 million U. S. value and $50 million at European wholesale levels in 1962 is a relatively small item, but it causes the most trouble. Over 90 per cent of these exports went to Germany, where tariffs have been raised from 4 to 16 cents a pound since 1958. The rate is now 10 cents a pound on value of the poultry itself, plus 6 cents feed grain differential.

European refusal to lower such tariffs may be the beginning of a trade war. This is the British reaction to U. S. trade czar Christian A. Herter's announcement of hearings to open Sept. 4 on retaliatory increases of U. S. tariffs.

If retaliatory increases are put into effect on both sides of the Atlantic, the whole purpose of the Trade Expansion Act will be defeated.

The Tariff Commission is given six months in which to advise the President on economic effects of these cuts.

During this same period, a U. S. Trade Information Committee of seven government department representatives will hold hearings on the proposed cuts. Here any American business firm may file objections to any proposed changes in tariff rates.

Actual negotiation of these changes with the Common Market countries is now set for May 4, 1964. Most of the difficulty is expected in negotiating tariffs on agricultural products.

U. S. industrial goods trade with the six Common Market countries balanced roughly at $3.5 billion each way in 1962

Double Talk: The Highest Art Forms of Civilization

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It's time again to brush up on our conversational skill with another lesson in double talk.

Double talk, you will recall, is one of the highest art forms of modern civilization.

It is the ability to say one thing clearly and convincingly—while actually you are thinking just the opposite.

Anyone today who says exactly what he means, and means exactly what he says, is hopelessly neanderthal or wildly eccentric.

To get along with the other fellow, you tell him what he wants to hear — and keep your honest opinions to yourself.

Truth is for polar bears; people can't stand the strain of it. They prefer the illusion of truth.

For those who haven't learned how to play the game, here are a few examples of double talk—followed, parenthetically, by literal translations:

"It's a lovely roast, but I think I've had plenty." (Cut me another piece, stupid, or are you trying to save it all for the dog?)

"Oh, here comes the waiter now with the bill. Shall we go Dutch, Mabel?" (Pick up the check, you henna-haired Midas. You know I bought lunch the last time.)

"Yep, reverend, that was a real inspirational sermon. I got a lot out of it." (What the devil was he mumbling about, anyway?)

"What a cute kid! He's a splitting image of you, Bill." (What do you call him—slobbering Willie?)

"It's not just the money, boss. I feel I deserve a raise as a matter of principle." (It's the money.)

Gee, Hortense, I could just sit and look at you all evening." (But how about a little action, baby? I'm slowly falling asleep.)

"It is now my pleasure to yield the floor to my esteemed colleague—" (Old blabbermouth always has to get his two cents worth in.)

"Well, I guess I will have just one more for the road, Bob. Make it light." (But at least wet the bottom of the glass this time. You pour liquor like it was priceless glue.)

"Please stop, Hector, or I'll scream." (Thank heavens, I've got laryngitis.)

"I think a little extra weight on a man makes him look more attractive." (But not when he already looks like a walrus.)

"Wonderful party. Where'd you find so many interesting people to invite?" (The zoo? The bowery? The city dump?)

RED CHINESE DRAGON SPITS FIRE—Dragon flames searing Korea symbolize renewed tension in that part of Asia. Ambushes of U.S. soldiers may signal a general step-up of pressure by the Chinese Communists to prove they're still tough. The dragon constitutes a menace on all sides of him: • India is watching a build-up of Chinese air and ground power in the border area which saw bitter fighting in 1962. • Laos is the object of constant attempts to sabotage a precarious cease-fire. • South Viet Nam fights a seemingly endless war against Chinese-inspired North Vietnamese guerrillas. • Formosa, stronghold of the Nationalist Chinese, maintains a watchful alert on a momentarily quiet front.

Long Standing Congo Ills Became Urgent Weeks Ago

By ROBIN P. MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Cyrille Adoula was in a financial jam when he went to Europe for economic talks. He has returned to find himself still between the devil and the deep blue sea.

The devil is the specter of national bankruptcy from runaway inflation and massive government over-spending. The alternative is a devaluation of the Congo franc. This is being urged on Adoula by international experts.

A long-standing problem became urgent three weeks ago. The United States, the Congo's main source of aid, suspended two important items of aid in July in an attempt to force through reforms.

These items were money to finance the import of consumer goods to fill yawning gaps on the shelves of Congo shops and money for public works projects. Last year these accounted for nearly half the $73 million the United States poured into the Congo.

Experts say the current exchange rate of 65 Congo francs to the dollar is unrealistic. Some advocate a devaluation of up to 500 per cent for some imports. They say the present rate penalizes exporters, favors importers and encourages smuggling.

This is costing the Congo millions of dollars a year. Diamonds, coffee, tea, rubber, cotton and palm oil are being shipped across wide-open frontiers while customs men are bribed to look the other way.

Some importers have been smuggling out goods bought cheaply abroad with foreign exchange from the Congo's paper-thin reserves and selling them in neighboring countries where they fetch high prices in hard currency.

There has also been brisk illicit trafficking in surplus food donated by the United States to feed hungry Congolese. American officials hear their hair at the sight of this food in Brazzaville, capital of the former French Congo.

This smuggling was one of the reasons for the cuts in aid, although shiploads of food are still arriving.

Most experts are agreed that a devaluation, accompanied by other reforms, must come quickly if this drain on the Congo's economic strength is to be halted before the country bleeds to death.

Despite three troubled years, production of many export commodities is buoyant. In some case it reaches the levels of the days when the Congo was a Belgian colony.

But government over-spending is likely to hit 17 billion Congo francs — about $260 million — this year, according to some experts. And internal prices have risen 300 per cent since 1960.

Informal sources said Belgium agreed in talks with Adoula to assume responsibility for almost half of the Congo's debt of 46 billion francs.

These sources said Belgium would take over the bulk of the foreign debt of 26 billion francs while the Congo would take charge of the rest.

Belgium also was reported to have agreed to hand over the Congo's portfolio of securities. The size of this portfolio is unknown, but it includes one-quarter of the

Halo's Over Beer

BRAINTREE, England (AP)—The halo's over the beer, and not the angel.

That's the main reason why the local vicar, the Rev. Frank Trundle, has denounced the sign over a pub here as disgraceful and demanded its removal.

The sign of "The Angel"—the name of the pub—depicts a smiling, brunette holding out a foaming pint which, sure enough, is topped by a gleaming halo.

The pub owner is standing pat behind his sign. He says "it's not wrong" and comes what may—it stays.

shares of Katanga's giant Union Minière copper and cobalt complex and the former Belgian Colony's holdings in other companies operating here.

An agreement also was reached on payment for the 2,100 Belgian teachers, doctors and technical advisers in the Congo. The sources said Belgium will pay two-thirds of their salaries.

Belgium may provide some of the short-term loans Adoula will need to bolster the Congo franc in the event of a devaluation. The United States had told Adoula it will not help unless Belgium is willing to help back the Congo franc, the best available source says.

One expert estimated at least $50 million would have been necessary to prop up the Congo franc if devaluation had taken place July 15, the original D-day.

Term to a Robber

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harold Montgomery, 18, was sentenced to 20 years in the federal penitentiary Monday for bank robbery.

Montgomery was convicted by a jury July 18th of robbing the suburban Webster Groves Equality Savings and Loan Co. on May 17.
